

Door Opening System – THE PIN

This door opening system is developed by a Special Force (SEK) official of German Police. The intention was to enable the fast intrusion in apartments. Due to the compact but extreme solid construction, this tool can be as used captive bolt pistol but at the same time also as lever to break open doors. The user of this system has the advantage compared to the common battering ram that he can also break doors which should be opened outward without any danger for the background.
